SUFFRAGISTS HIT BACK AT "ANTIS"

Figures Quoted to Show There Are More Than 75,000 Suffrage Advocates in Country.

Contrary to the prevailing impression, no aerimonious remarks were made at the meeting of the Stanton Suffrage Club at the Public Library last night which might have been construed as a reply to the sinterments made at the meeting of the Anti-Suffrage Club last Tuesday, in which woman suffrage was several criticised and listed as in idle fallacy, a in which woman suffrage was severely criticised and listed as in idle fallacy, a since, and a delusion.

Mrs. W. G. Staurt, who occupied the chair in the absence of Mrs. Anna Keiten Wiley, the president, in referring to some claims advanced at the anti-suffragest meeting as to the number of suffrage members in the United States, said that she was not prepared to say anything about the statement that the suffrage organizations in the United States had a membership of only 7,000.

She said that in New York one organization alone had a membership of 8,000, and that it seemed having possible that all the other organizations all over the country smounted to only 2,000. She explained that there are many mandeespaying organizations, and it may be that there is some such explanation as that for this apparently rather small figure.

"We have no desire to be argumentative," continued Mrs. Staurt, "but at the setting a great many state-anti-suffrage meeting a great many state-anti-suffrage meeting a great many state-to layer a chance to annual figure. We was no opportunity given for discussion at the clove of the meeting, a few of us

"The Devices of Democracy."
John Walker Holcombe, of the Department of the Interior, lectured on "The devices of democracy," trucing the biscopy of the machinery of the American government from its earliest inception to the present day. He expressed his opinion that the system of government of cities by commission, with the more important officers elected by the voters, and the minor officers alled by those elected, was a step in the right direction to guarantee a more efficient public services and do away as much as possible with corruption at elections.

George E. Wheelock, a member of the Metropolitan police, yesterday filed suit

Metropolitan police, yesterday filed suit for mandamus to compet the Commissioners to enroll him. In Class 2 of the police force and accord him the salary due in connection with that class.

Petitioner says he was appointed July 25, 1906, and was classified as a private in Class 1, and three years later was advanced to Class 2, but two years subsequent was not promoted to Class 2, at a salary of Ello, as he contends the law contemplates.

It is the purpose of the suit to determine whether promotion to Class 2 should be made after five years' service as a private of Class 2, or after five years from the date of the appointment.
